Cool shmup! Nice graphics, good music and controls. Lots of unlockables visual filters to keep the eyes entertained too. Dev is very responsive and open to feedback.

I did have some issues with differentiating foreground\background graphics and some minor issues with but overall it's a solid shmup. It even has some nods to another one of their games- vortex attack which is a fun game too--which was really cool. Unfortunately I'll probably never get the "real" ending as I found continuing means you have to start at the very beginning of the stage, (think the original Super Mario Bros), instead of at the level I died in. No worries though.. Went to buy this game and realized i bought it years ago. Wondered why I don't remember. Installed and UPlay popped into my computer like digital cancer. Now I know why I still have not played this game. UPlay doesn't work through Steam. If I buy a game on Steam, I want it to play though Steam. Steam is a stable software platform. UPlay is not. This game does not work on my computer, nor has any game I have to play though Uplay COUGH Far Cry anything COUGH Splinter Cell anything.... I was a sperm cell lul.. The person introduced this to me has gone but I know you are watching from there sister.. AWESOME GAME. I've been wanting a decent realistic golf game for pc on Steam, and this one meets all of my requirements. If you've played a golf game in the past, then the chances are you have been mollycoddled with aim helpers and power bars. Not here. You're on your own, and I think that is the best way to learn how to play this game. After a few rounds of hell and wondering if you bought a bad game, you find your shots lining up, and your understanding deepens. You begin to think a little more before swinging. You start to question the game's choice of club, and change it yourself. Then you're hooked, and it's so very rewarding when you drop that 24ft putt, or hit your very first eagle on a par 5. Anyway, I think the career mode could be a little less "sandbox" and have actual preset tournaments you could take part in. The whole society side of the game seems a bit fatuous too, but doesn't detract either. Customization is decent, but that doesn't really bother me much. The graphics are great, and it runs really well too. The sound is good which is important to me for immersion's sake. The announcer is particularly good, having a reasonable sense of humour and he rarely repeats himself. Recommended, and has the "best golf sim on Steam" title for me, but then this is the only golf sim on Steam I have played.. Yep, here's your childhood arcade.

Cute simple story, addictingly satisfying gameplay and a very fun learning curve.

Plus, it's so light to run that you can hone your Zuma's Revenge! skills while waiting on the longass queues of whatever game is trending. A much better use of your time as opposed to taking a look at the P2W shop of said trending game.

Also, I guess it helps with your eye-hand coordination hence the predicting where the balls will land, timing and whatnot. This is one I'll be playing up to my last days on Earth.

This is Magnificent! The best P51D Mustang campaign ever! You've got to escort 60+ bombers. The views are simply amazing especially when seeing them drop their payloads! However there are a few small bugs such as non functioning fuel tanks but none of the bugs stops you from completing the missions. Note that these campaigns are very demanding on computer's resources. Core i7 9700K, GTX 1080Ti, SSD and 32 GB of RAM on high resolution setting are sufficient in almost all situations except when the bombers drop their payloads, the framerate drops so much even with the specs above. Hopefully ED can fix the bugs soon and improve the performance.. Don't BUY before you have read the EULA - End User License Agreement - for Bitcoin Collector.

By accepting the EULA you surrender a disturbing amount of personal information to the Dev, This Dev then has the freedom to use and sell your detailed personal information any way they see fit. No questions Asked !! Accepting this EULA gives them the right to basically scan your computer like malware to collect it all.

A growing number of Devs are moving in this invasive direction and it must stop. Look at the flood of negative reviews over at KSP Kerbal Space Program, after those Devs pulled an identical move with their EULA.. A decent match game with a few twists on the genre and definitely more casual play if you prefer. I bought it on sale for 1.99 and played for over 8 hours (to 100%) and as such I definitely got my money's worth. I try and get 1 hour of play for USD$1 I spend.

That said, it can get repetitive after a while and the trophy levels especially seemed rehashed. This is a genre prone to repetition, however, so I adjust my score accordingly... 7V10. For all those cliff hangers in the ending of part 1, it's just a rain. Casual Kazuki's joke.

KazukibestgrillV10. GOOD GAME, even in its early access state.

I have finally arrived at the future of sub simulation games. I can now die in peace.

note: aside from the racist nazi's that flock to anything German ww2 themed, the game is good to play with sane and mature friends. What a fun game! The story was interesting and the game play challenging.

I found the game to be more puzzles than hidden item games. The hidden item scenes were all the type where you have to find pieces and puzzle solve to complete a goal. That being said, I have nothing against those types of scenes but am a fan of more traditional item finding. That being said, all the scenes and puzzles offer a good bit of challenge and works your brain so don't think that this is push over game.

With the puzzles also come an engaging story. You play a woman from the Earth realm summoned to a magical land to save it from doom. Sadly, our hero Susan doesn't say much but everyone else has solid voice acting. I was quite a fan of the dwarf you gain as a sidekick.

Overall it's a definite buy for fans of puzzle games and hidden item games, it will offer quite a few hours of enjoyment.. Yo, you should totally buy this shiz.
